I write in connection with your request for information dated 31st March concerning COVID19 legislation.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered, and having consulted our COVIDFPN team, I am happy to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

Q1: Where it states that covid guidelines/regulations or restrictions have the force of law or legislation.

Q2: Where Public have to give out their personal details to be issued fines under covid regulations or fear Arrest for obstruction if they do not?

As there is no mention of having to supply any personal Information in legislation by case law(Rice v Connely 1966), Neither in common law.

Primary police role is to uphold the Queens peace and enforce law/legislation. where the Queens peace has not been breached as the definitions in the Breach of this peace is not reached by the definitions of Covid guidelines/regulations or restrictions.

Therefor how can something be enforced by you, that is not in law or legislation.

With clarity;-

(q2) Therefore how can something be enforced by you, that is not in law or legislation.
