Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information, dated 30th March 2021 concerning sexual offences in schools.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Business Intelligence department of Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

How many alleged sexual offences including assault and rape were recorded by the police force at schools during the last four academic years - from 2017 until now?

As far as possible, please provide details for each incident including the nature of the alleged offence and the ages of the victim and the suspect.

Our Response

The information you have requested is not stored in a manner which allows for easy retrieval.

To find out the number of sexual assaults that have taken place within schools during the last 4 academic years, Wiltshire Police would need to manually search through the occurrence logs of all sexual assaults that occurred during this period in Wiltshire to ascertain the information you require here.

Although we have a school 'flag' in our systems which we can search on, the population of this flag is not mandatory and therefore the results it is able to provide cannot be relied upon, certainly not to publish statistics of this nature, effectively in the public domain. There are likely to be occasions whereby a sexual assault has occurred in a school however the school flag has not been ticked when the crime occurrence has been recorded on our system, and therefore a search on this flag will leave out a number of these occurrences. Another issue with searching on this flag is that it records incidents within the given postcode area that the school is in and therefore a search is likely to bring up incidents where a sexual assault has happened near a school in addition to those actually on the school premises, which would compromise the integrity of the results even further.

Our Business Intelligence Team have undertaken a search of all sexual offences that have been recorded over the last 4 academic years and this returned nearly 5000 unique occurrences.

2017-2018	1,577
2018-2019	1,484
2019-2020	1,271
2020-2021 (to date)	788 (to 1 st April 2021)
Total	5,120 (and counting)

To ascertain whether any of these actually occurred within school premises would necessitate us locating each crime log and reading it to ascertain what type of offence has been committed, where it has taken place, whether anyone has been charged or not and then creating a specific record of occurrences that fit your criteria. Even allowing a very generous 10 minutes per record to perform this task, I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it. Therefore the whole of the request falls under the exemption of section 12 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance we would advise you of a way to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties outlined above I cannot see how this could be achieved in this particular case.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit. In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me, and been considered in the light of your request, within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely

Nick Penny
