Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 9th September 2021, concerning A303 road statistics.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Justice Traffic and Contact Management departments and the Roads Policing Unit at Wiltshire Police. Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

As a resident of the village of Chicklade straddling the A303 in Wiltshire, I would be grateful if you would kindly supply the following information.

- How many fatalities have occurred due to road traffic accidents on the Chicklade Bottom to Mere stretch of the A303 within the last 5 years?
- How many times has the Chicklade Bottom to Mere stretch of the A303 been closed for over one hour due to road traffic accidents or weather conditions within the last 5 years?
- When was the last time that Wiltshire Police conducted any speed enforcement action on the A303 within the 50 mph limit of Chicklade village?

Our response:

With regard to the final 2 questions, the information you are requesting is not stored in a way which permits for easy retrieval. There is not a central repository where this information is held. To provide an accurate response to this request, a manual review of each TOR submission and call out log will need to be conducted to determine the location details, and whether the incident relates to this request. Completing these searches for the previous 5 years would require searching through thousands of records.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it. Therefore the whole of the request should fall under the exemption of section 12 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Please also note that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 obligation to provide advice and assistance we would advise you of a way to refine your request to a more manageable level. Due to the difficulties in obtaining the requested information, as outlined above, I cannot think of a way in which this could be achieved.

Although excess cost removes the Forces' obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request. What I can provide you with is documented below:

How many fatalities have occurred due to road traffic accidents on the Chicklade Bottom to Mere stretch of the A303 within the last 5 years?

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12 – Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

Please contact me if you would like to discuss the withheld information.

Yours sincerely

Abigail Standidge
