Dear XXXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 3rd November concerning spiking of drinks and by injection.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

Could you tell me the number of drink spiking offences and spiking offences via injection that were recorded in the following time periods please:

- The 12 months to November 1, 2021
- The 12 months to November 1, 2020
- The 12 months to November 1, 2019
- The 12 months to November 1, 2018
- The 12 months to November 1, 2017

If possible, for each time period, could you tell me the gender of the victims please?

Our response:

The information that you are requesting is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Whilst our crime recording system(s) are very sophisticated and we are able to search specific fields for particular data, we do not specifically store anywhere any flag or entry that designates that “spiking by injection” or “spiking of drinks” has been involved in a given crime.

This information would only be stored within the crime log of a given occurrence and the only way to locate such instances would be to access and read every crime log involved to determine whether spiking by injection played a contributing part and make a specific note of any details that met the criteria of your request.

Offences involving spiking have historically ended up being typically recorded under categories such as Violence Against the Person, Theft and Sexual Offences although in reality they could potentially fall under any particular crime category.

Given that Wiltshire Police typically record something around 40,000 individual crimes in a typical calendar year, under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Under our section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, I have E mailed you with suggestions as to how you might refine your request to a more manageable level, however I have heard nothing further from you.

Also under our section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, you may find the following link to our website useful. This shows previous FOI responses that have been sent out and is likely to include information in respect of requests similar to your around spiking of drinks and directly by injection :-

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

- (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Penny
