Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 12th April 2022 concerning those stopped for using a mobile phone whilst driving. My apologies for the delayed response.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

The number of people stopped, warned, or issued a fixed penalty notice for using a mobile phone while driving under the new law that took effect on the 25th of March between the period of 25th March 2022 to 31st March 2022 inclusive.

Please provide the information in the form of a table; outlining the number of people stopped, warned, or issued a fixed penalty.

Our response:

The information that you are requesting in relation the number of individuals who have been stopped or warned for using a mobile phone whilst driving is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval. If this information is held for the time frame requested, it is likely that this information would be recorded in Police Officer's notebooks and therefore, in order to ascertain whether any individuals have been stopped or warned, this would require us having to manually review each Officer's notebook who would have been on duty over the time frame requested. Due to the obtaining of this information undoubtedly taking an excessive amount of time to achieve, your request is therefore exempt from disclosure.

Under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Please note, that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Although excess cost removes the forces' obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request. What I am able to provide you are the answers documented below -

The number of fixed penalty notices issued under the new mobile phone legislation for the period 25/03/22 – 31/03/22 inclusive:

Offence Code	Offence Description	Number of Notices Issued
RV86019	Use a handheld mobile phone / device while driving a motor vehicle on a road - endorsable offence	6
	Total	6
Total		6

Ordinarily under our Section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties outlined above, I cannot see how this can be achieved in this particular case.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

- (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with Section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Kay Moore
