Dear XXXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 11th July 2022 concerning Fuel Theft.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

How many of the following types of petrol thefts were reported to your force in each of the following months - June 2020 through to June 2022.

1. petrol theft from another person's vehicle (theft of fuel from a vehicle)
2. fuel theft from a petrol station (driver making off without payment at petrol pumps)

Please break down figures for 1 and 2 above by calendar month for the periods June 1 2020 to June 30 2022.

Our response:

The information you have requested is not easily retrievable because theft of fuel is not recorded under a specific crime category.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Therefore in order to ascertain the information you have requested we would need to manually review all theft reports in which offences of this nature may have been recorded for the specified time category in to identify those that meet your criteria.

Offences of this nature could potentially be recorded under any of the following different crime categories :-

- Robbery
- Other Theft
- All other Thefts
- Theft from a motor vehicle
- Misc crimes against society

Given that for the time period you have requested we have recorded 5,804 crimes under the above different categories, under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it. Therefore the whole of the request falls under the exemption of section 12 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 obligation to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you of a way to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties in obtaining the requested information, as outlined above, I cannot think of a way in which this could be achieved.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

- (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Penny
