Our Ref FOI 2022/987

Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 15th December 2022, concerning dangerous dogs.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Business Intelligence department and Dogs Section at Wiltshire Police. Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

I am writing to request the numbers of dangerous dogs your force has seized, the number of reports of dangerous dog attacks you received, and the number of dangerous dogs you destroyed between 1st December 2021 and 30th November 2022.

Please also provide the same data for 1st December 2020 to 30th November 2021, 1st December 2019 to 30th November 2020, 1st December 2018 to 30th November 2019, and 1st December 2017 to 30th November 2018.

Our response:

Section 1 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA) places two duties on public authorities. Unless exemptions apply, the first duty at s1(1)(a) is to confirm or deny whether the information specified in a request is held. The second duty at s1(1)(b) is to disclose information that has been confirmed as being held.

Whilst I can confirm Wiltshire Police do hold the requested information, section 12(1) of the FOIA states:-

Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

The information you are requesting - specifically in relation to the number of reports of dangerous dog attacks - is not stored in a way which permits for easy retrieval. There is no tag for 'dangerous dog' and therefore the only way to establish the number of reports of attacks by dangerous dogs would be to conduct a manual review of all call logs for the time periods requested.

Under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it. Therefore the whole of the request should fall under the exemption of section 12 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Please also note that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 obligation to provide advice and assistance we would advise you of a way to refine your request to a more manageable level. Due to the difficulties in obtaining the requested information, as outlined above, I cannot think of a way in which this could be achieved.

Although excess cost removes the Forces' obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request. What I can provide you with is documented below:

Please note: The figure for dangerous dogs destroyed are figures where the dog was destroyed for whatever reason (ill health, destruction orders, disclaimed etc)

Period requested	Number of dangerous dogs seized	Number of destroyed dangerous dogs
1st December 2021 – 30th November 2022	19	8
1st December 2020 – 30th November 2021	54	5
1st December 2019 – 30th November 2020	9	5
1st December 2018 – 30th November 2019	8	3
1st December 2017 – 30th November 2018	8	2

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12 – Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.
