Dear XXXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 10th February 2023 concerning Stolen Dogs.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

I am writing to you under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Please could you provide the following information in an Excel spreadsheet or in the tables below:

Q1. Please state how many dogs were reported as stolen in your area in 2022:

	2022
Reports of dogs being stolen

Q2. Over the same timeframe, please state how many of these cases were resolved (i.e. the pet was returned to its owner):

	2022
Cases of dogs being returned

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Q3. If possible, please state the three most commonly stolen breeds of dog and the number of each taken, in 2022:

Stolen dogs	Breed #1		Breed #2		Breed #3
	Name	Count	Name	Count	Name	Count
2022

Our response:

This type of information is not stored in a way which allows for easy retrieval.

There is no specific Home Office crime recording code for the theft of pets or indeed dogs. Offences of this nature would likely be recorded under one of the following crime codes :-

- Other Theft
- Theft from the Person
- Misc crimes against society

To provide the information you require, we would need to manually open and read each and every occurrence log reported in the above categories during 2022 and create new records for the specific information you require (dogs recovered, breeds etc).

Given that in 2022 Wiltshire Police recorded more than 4,500 individual crimes under the three crime categories listed above and allowing a very conservative 3 minutes per record - I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Please note

- In many instances, the breed is not always likely to have been recorded in the log, similarly whether the animal was ever recovered or not
- There is no obligation on an Authority to create information where none currently exists today, simply to answer an FOI request

Ordinarily under our section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties outlined above, I cannot see how this can be achieved in this particular case.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

- (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Penny
