Ref: FOI 2023/139

Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 26th January 2023 concerning officers and staff reported for domestic abuse.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am now able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

1. How many police officers and staff in your force have been reported for domestic abuse from October 2021 to the end of December 2022?
2. How many of these reports resulted in any sort of professional disciplinary action of an officer or staff member?
3. How many of these reports resulted in a criminal conviction of an officer or staff member?
4. How many of these reported officers/staff were removed from their job?
5. How many of these reported officers/staff members are still part of your force?

Our response:

At present, we are unable to easily retrieve information from our Centurion database in the respect of domestic violence/abuse cases due to IT issues which are currently precluding reports of this nature to be run. Therefore, rather than delay the response, we would suggest that you come back to us at a later date if you still require this information. Please note, that whilst an IT request has been generated to rectify this issue, this is currently being triaged amongst a number of other IT requests and as a result, I do not have a timescale for when this issue may be resolved, and when reports can be run effectively.

However, if you still require this information then I would suggest that you come back to us and request for this information in a month or so, as hopefully we will be in the position by then to look to provide you with this information.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker
