Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 8th March 2023 concerning officer and staff suicides.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and after having consulted the Human Resources team – I am now able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

As part of a wider project, I politely request the total number of police employees, separated by officers and staff, that died as a result of suicide whilst in paid employment within your force for the following years:

Suicides in police employment
	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023
Officers
Staff

Our response:

No information held.

We do not record the reasons for death on our system(s), only that an officer or staff member is deceased.

The Coroner is the person who will establish and record whether a suicide has taken place and we do not retrieve and/or record the Coroner's records.

3. Review Procedure

Receipt of a request for review will be acknowledged in writing to include confirmation of the reasons for the review.
