Dear XXXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 14th July 2023 concerning Motor Vehicle Thefts.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

Total number of stolen vehicles recorded in the period 2020-2022 including :-

- The make and model of the vehicle
- Whether the vehicle was recovered
- Manner of entry to the vehicle

Our response:

The information that you are requesting is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval.

Whilst our crime recording system(s) are sophisticated and we have various field in which we record specific information related to a crime or incident - and can theoretically then undertake searches on – we do not have specific fields in which we can record the following :-

- The make and model of the vehicle involved
- Whether or not the vehicle was recovered
- What the manner or entry was to the vehicle

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

This information – even if it is known and has been recorded – would only be contained within the narrative of the crime log concerned and, in some cases, will not necessarily have even been recorded at all as there is no statutory requirement to do so (or it might not be known or provided to us at the time).

The only way of ascertaining the information you require would be to locate and read each and every individual crime report for Motor Vehicles stolen in the time period you require and make a manual note of the information you require.

Given that there have been many hundreds of individual crime reports made to Wiltshire Police concerning the Theft of Motor Vehicles for the time period you require - and allowing a very conservative 3 minutes per record - under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Ordinarily under our section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties outlined above, I cannot see how this can be achieved in this particular case.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

- (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Penny
