Ref: FOI 2023/975

Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 9th October 2023 concerning reports of aggressive dogs.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

Under the Freedom of Information Act, please can you provide the following information relating to the force's response to reports of dog aggression in the last three years:

The number of written warnings the force has given to dog owners following reports of dog aggression

The number of community protection orders the force has handed to dog owners following reports of dog aggression

Please can these figures be broken down by year and, if possible, the breed of dog the subject of the written warning/community protection orders.

Could the force also provide the number of dog owners who received a written warning and went on to receive a community protection order in the same time period.

Our response:

The information that you are requesting for the majority of your request is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval. There is no tag or specific offence within our systems that we can easily search on that would bring back accurate results solely for reports of aggressive dogs. Therefore, the only way in which we would be able to ascertain this information correctly, would be to physically peruse through all reports we have received within the last 3 years, in order to obtain the number of reports of dog aggression there has been and then subsequently ascertain the other information you require pertaining to written warnings and community protection orders.

Under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Please note, that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level. However, due to the difficulties outlined above, I cannot see how this can be achieved in this particular case.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12 – Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with Section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker
