Ref: FOI 2024/167

Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 9th February 2024 concerning drink and drug driving arrests.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

If you don't mind, please can I be informed of the following things.

1. Arrest numbers for drink and drug drive in 2022
2. Arrest numbers for drink and drug drive in 2021
3. Arrest numbers for drink and drug drive in 2015
4. Arrest numbers for drink and drug drive in 2010

The next request I understand might be more tricky, but I would appreciate if you can help me out.

5. When a 999 call comes in about a possible drink or drug driver, how many times was a unit sent to the incident. Instead of an observation message being passed.

Please can you inform of the above for the year 2022.

The information that you are requesting for part of your request (namely question 5) is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval. This is because there is no specific log type we can easily search on that would accurately bring back results for possible drink and drug reports, which would then allow us to more easily obtain how many times a unit was deployed to such an incident. Reports of possible drink and drug driving would likely fall under various log types, such as: RTC INJ/NON INJ, Traffic Inc, ASB, Susp Circs etc – but again, these incident types are not limited to drink and drug drivers, so in order to ascertain the information you require concisely, we would have to manually sift through each 999 call log made over the time frame requested, in order to firstly establish whether the report relates to possible drink and drug driving, and then gather how many times a unit was dispatched to the incident.

Therefore, under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Please note, that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level and in order to do so, I would suggest that you omit question 5 from your request and send the remaining questions to us as we will be able to action these for you.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12 – Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with Section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker
