Our Ref FOI 2024-573

Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 12th June 2024, concerning Policy on preventing legal representatives entering custody suite front desk.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Force Policy Officer and Strategic Custody Inspector at Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

Does the force have a policy of preventing legal representatives from entering the custody suite front desk area in its police stations (the booking and charging area for suspects, where the custody sergeants are based)?

Our response:

Whilst the Force has a Policy relating to detention and custody in general, we do not have a specific Policy preventing legal representatives from entering the custody suite front desk area.

However, there may be instances where the presence of a legal representative or solicitor at the custody suite front / charge desk would not be suitable. For example:

- ❖ To protect an individual's privacy – if an individual is being booked into custody / charged / having their case managed / disposing of the individual and the legal representative or solicitor is not involved with that individual's case, the legal representative or solicitor will be asked to move away.
- ❖ Violent prisoner – where a violent prisoner is being dealt with, the legal representative or solicitor will be asked to stay back or move away from the area until the risk has been mitigated.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Requests for review of a Freedom of Information request must be made in writing to the:

3. Review Procedure

Receipt of a request for review will be acknowledged in writing to include confirmation of the reasons for the review. The review will be conducted by another Decision Maker, who is independent from the original Decision Maker. The Force Disclosure Unit will set a target date for a response.
