Dear XXXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 4th October 2024 concerning Bladed Weapons and Knives surrendered.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am now able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

Our response:

No Information Held.

There is no obligation on an Authority to provide any explanation or reasons when supplying a No Information Held response, however, in this instance – and under our Section 16 duty to be as helpful as possible to an applicant – I am happy to provide some additional context here.

The information you are requesting here is only being collated by Wiltshire Police (and other Forces) on behalf of the Home Office and is not being used for a policing purpose. This is determined by the process stipulated during the surrender period which confirms the information collected/retained by the forces is only being done so as directed by the HO and for their purpose only. This is further documented in the MOU and DPIA which confirm any information held by forces should be disposed of once receipt of the claim has been confirmed by the HO. Section 3(2)(a) stipulates that information is considered held unless it is solely being held on behalf of another person.

In this instance, we would recommend that you request this information directly from the Home Office :-

foirequests@homeoffice.gov.uk

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Penny

Any person who has requested information from Wiltshire Police, which has been dealt with under the Freedom of Information Act, is entitled to complain and request an internal review, if they are dissatisfied with the response they received.

2. How to Request a Review

Requests for review of a Freedom of Information request must be made in writing to the:

3. Review Procedure
