Ref: FOI 2024/904

Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 13th October 2024 concerning repeat mental health call outs.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You wrote:

1. How many repeat MH sufferers you register in your county? (3 and more concern for welfare call outs in the space of 3 months for the same person. Please look at the "year-to-date" YTD data)
2. What is the cost of those call outs? (approximate number of call centre and police deployment hours and corresponding cost overall). YTD data.

Our response:

The information that you are requesting for the majority of your request is not stored in a way which permits easy retrieval. This is because although mental health logs can be broken down by the caller's name, this doesn't necessarily mean that the incident relates to them or that they are calling about the same person each time. Unfortunately, our systems do not break this data down into separate individuals' mental health episodes. Therefore, the only way in which we would be able to obtain this information accurately would be to manually review every mental health related log for the time frame requested in order to establish whether we have any repeat call outs, and to further try and determine the costs of these call outs which would be an incredibly difficult task to achieve.

Under the circumstances I am absolutely confident that to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek would by far exceed the time obligations upon this authority to comply, and in so doing would exceed the fees limits. This is set at £450 calculated at a flat rate of £25 per hour for those work activities comprising of confirming the information is held, locating it, retrieving it and extracting it.

Please note, that if one part of the request engages a Section 12 response, the whole request will engage a Section 12 response. The reason being is due to the fact that locating, retrieving and extracting any further information would only add to the already exceeded time obligations.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 duty to provide advice and assistance, we would advise you how to refine your request to a more manageable level and in order to do so, if you were to request for information related to persons detained under Section 136 of the Mental Health Act, then we may be able to assist further.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12 – Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit

(1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with Section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker
