Our Ref FOI 2025-065

Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 16th January 2025, concerning tool marking events.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Crime Reduction and Prevention department at Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

1. The number of tool marking events that your police force has supported in the following calendar years: 2024 and 2023?

Clarification received 16.01.2025

I'm referring to events organized by the police, either independently or in collaboration with third parties, where tradespeople can bring their tools to be marked (e.g., using forensic marking solution). These initiatives aim to help protect tools against theft by providing a way to identify them if recovered by the police.

Our response:

Apart from handing out SelectaDNA kits, Wiltshire Police have not held any tool marking events.

Please note: I have been informed that there are plans to conduct tool marking and trade prevention days within the next month. A video will be created outlining a victim's experience of tool theft and the impact this has had on them, alongside working with different retailers and local neighbourhood teams in partnership to support with an array of crime prevention advice.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Keeping Wiltshire Safe

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker

Wiltshire Police offers a re-examination of your case under its review procedure.
