Dear XXXXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 28th February 2025 regarding police station closures.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by Facilities at Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am able to respond as follows.

I am writing to you requesting information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Could you please provide me with the following information:

1. If there are any police stations that have closed down in your area in the past five years
2. and if so how many?

Our response:

The answer to your request is exempt under Section 21 of the FOIA (Information available to the applicant by other means).

The information you have requested is available via the following website/link:
