Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 10th March concerning crimes in public toilets.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

The number of crimes or incidents reported each year to Wiltshire Police in relation to / at the toilets on Salisbury Market Place, broken down by type of report (e.g., assault, drugs-related) for each year since 2015.

Response:

The data below has been selected using all Short Addresses that contain Market Place Salisbury. As previously discussed, we are unable to filter on the toilets as a location.

Having spoken to the crime analysts, the toilets are not a specific location. This will only be noted within the body of the report, if the officer included it in their report.
