Reply contact name is:

Dear,

I write in connection with your request for information, dated 16th January 2026 concerning blowtorch burglaries.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Business Intelligence Department of Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered and I am not obliged to supply the information you have requested.

You Wrote:

I would like to request data regarding burglaries in which heat-based tools (commonly referred to as "Blowtorch burglaries") were used or suspected.

I request the following information:

1) Attempted burglary reports involving use of a blowtorch/cutting torch/oxyacetylene in your area: Data shown annually from 1st January 2015 to 31st December 2025

Whether the target was commercial or residential.

Whether any areas were flagged internally as repeated targets

Whether there was fire service involvement

The number of incidents resulting in a charge or no suspect identified

2) Whether the force has produced any internal assessments, profiles or briefings relating specifically to burglaries involving heat-based tools during this period

3) Any footage of blowtorch burglary attempts that can be shared, no personal data required.

Response:

The information that you are requesting is not stored in a way which allows for easy retrieval and Wiltshire Police does not have the search facility to automatically gather this data. To clarify, our Business Intelligence Department has confirmed that to ascertain this information for the requested time periods would require manually searching and reading each and every 'burglary' Occurrence individually to determine if they related to your request. This would exceed the 18 hour work limit to locate, retrieve and extract the information and therefore Section 12 applies.

Ordinarily under our Section 16 obligation to provide advice and assistance, I would advise you of a way in which to refine your request. However, due to the difficulties as outlined above, I cannot think of a way in which this could be achieved.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Wiltshire Police, when refusing to provide such information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states that fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if that would not otherwise be apparent) why the exemption applies.

The exemption applicable to the information requested is:

Section 12: Exemption where cost of compliance exceeds appropriate limit
Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

In accordance with section 17 of the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this particular request.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me, and been considered in the light of your request, within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours Sincerely,

Wiltshire Police offers a re-examination of your case under its review procedure.
