Dear XXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 24/02/26 concerning where all current active Wiltshire Police Stations are.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered, and I am able to respond as follows.

I would like to know where all currently active police stations are in your area, regardless of size and function.

To clarify what I mean by 'active police station' is one where a vehicle or officer would be dispatched to a crime in progress. Robbery, assault, vehicle failing to stop etc. I am aware I can search using the website but I need to search a specific location and then only get 3-4 results so it would be possible to miss stations.

2. How to Request a Review

Requests for review of a Freedom of Information request must be made in writing to the:

3. Review Procedure

Receipt of a request for review will be acknowledged in writing to include confirmation of the reasons for the review. The review will be conducted by another Decision Maker, who is independent from the original Decision Maker. The Force Disclosure Unit will set a target date for a response. The response will be made as soon as is practicable with the intention to complete the review within twenty working days. In more complex cases the review may take up to 40 working days.

The Independent Decision Maker will conduct a review of the handling of the request for information and of decisions taken, including decisions taken about where the public interest lies in respect of exempt information where applicable. The review enables a re-evaluation of the case, taking into account the matters raised by the complaint.

4. Conclusion of the Appeal
