Dear XXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 9th July regarding Character AI.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Following receipt of your request, research was conducted by the Business Intelligence Unit at Wiltshire Police.

Your request for information has now been considered, and I am able to respond as follows.

You wrote:

I am writing to request the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000:

- The number of crime reports since the beginning of 2024 until the receipt of this email in which CharacterAI was mentioned.
- In these reports, what crimes were alleged? E.g. blackmail, or stalking.
- How many people have been charged in cases where Character AI has been mentioned?
- How many of these cases are ongoing?

Our response:

0 (zero)

Please note, this data was obtained by completing a summary search for the terms "CharacterAI" and "Character AI". The results of these types of searches may be unreliable and inaccurate as only the summary field of the report is searched. If these terms are contained elsewhere (i.e. within the call log, crime report, statements etc.) these will not be returned in the results. Additionally, if the term is misspelled within the summary field, this will not be returned. To provide accurate results, a manual search of each crime within the specified timeframe would be required to deem if they were relevant to your request.

Keeping Wiltshire Safe

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed to me and considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely,

Force Disclosure Decision Maker
