Dear XXX,

I write in connection with your request for information dated 03/09/26 concerning if the force has a policy requiring attendance at every death that comes to our attention.

I am required by the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to handle all requests in a manner that is blind as to the identity and motives of the requestor. Any information released as a response to a request is regarded as being published and therefore in the public domain without caveat.

Your request for information has now been considered, and I am able to respond as follows.

You wrote (and our response):

1. Whether Wiltshire Police indeed have a policy requiring attendance at every death that comes to their attention?

The force does not have a policy requiring attendance at every death that comes to our attention.

2. If this is the case, what is the rationale behind this policy? Is it:

A local agreement with the Wiltshire and Swindon Coroner's Service?

A force-wide operational policy?

A risk management approach specific to Wiltshire?

No information held.

3. How does the force reconcile this comprehensive attendance policy with the frequently communicated message that emergency services operate under significant resource constraints?

Keeping Wiltshire Safe

The force does not have a comprehensive attendance policy as mentioned in question 1 above.

4. How does this policy differ from other UK police forces' approaches to attending deaths, and what factors have led to any differences?

No information held.

I am satisfied that all the relevant information has been passed on to me and been considered in the light of your request within the time constraints applicable under the legislation.

Wiltshire Police would like to thank you for the interest that you have shown in the Force.

Yours sincerely

Force Disclosure Decision Maker

Wiltshire Police offers a re-examination of your case under its review procedure.
